SIRA APPROVED COMPANY

Almoosa Security System team of CCTV engineers has undergone training and is certified and approved by the SIRA department of the Dubai Police to perform CCTV installations according to the security norms established for SIRA-approved companies. This ensures the implementation of international best practices for effective CCTV surveillance for both establishments and personal or residential use.

Almoosa Security System is one of the leading SIRA-approved companies in Dubai, providing SIRA-certified access control and CCTV installation throughout the UAE. We offer SIRA-certified CCTV solutions with SIRA-certified DVRs, NVRs, and CCTV cameras to ensure compliance with SIRA norms, aiding companies in obtaining SIRA certificates for their licensing purposes.

The Security Industry Regulatory Agency (SIRA) was established in 2016 by a decree from His Highness Sheikh Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Maktoum, Vice President and Prime Minister of the UAE and Ruler of Dubai. SIRA aims to ensure the highest levels of safety and security in Dubai through the adoption of international best practices in security systems, services, and personnel. Previously known as the Department of Protective Systems (DPS), an arm of Dubai Police, SIRA now operates as an independent government body overseeing the security industry in Dubai.

SIRA safeguards lives and properties by proposing new laws and regulations, implementing smart systems, training security personnel, and inspecting various facilities. Companies in Dubai must meet stringent norms, undergo training, and pass testing by Dubai Police to be certified and listed as SIRA-approved.
